

Support a movement

Elevate high-impact programming, foster new connections, and advance big ideas for the field.

It's easy to make an impact at the Conference for Advancing Participatory Sciences (CAPS). We work with you around any of the following options to customize an experience that resonates long past the event. You can:

LEAD ($3,000+)

Amplify an accepted session (yours or another) with messaging before, during, and after the conference to align your expertise with emerging work in this field.

CONNECT ($5,500+)

Hold a focused event to bring together your ideal group of people. OR bring big ideas together across disciplines with your promotion and/or synthesis of a topical set of sessions.

CONVENE ($10,000+)

Host (or align with) a high-level special event or topical strand. OR ensure that a specific audience can bring their expertise to the conference with your support.

We offer ideas, templates, and the flexibility to explore your vision. On the next page you'll find more options, some that can help you frame this as a traditional sponsor experience and others that might inspire you to try something new.

Get in touch early for the best opportunities to shape the program and your experience. Drop us a line at director@citizenscience.org.

Supporters are part of the conference family. We work hard to help all involved in this event forge meaningful connections. To this end, we foster relationships for any direct session promotions to ensure a match everyone is proud to be part of.

The basics:

Supporters at all levels are recognized widely (website and screens), have the opportunity to exhibit, can access complimentary registrations and receive post-event metrics.

To customize your experience, explore the event menu of a la carte add-ons.

Access additional registrations at a discount. Provide branded SWAG or a named award. Host a dinner with dignitaries, or a demo during exhibit hours. Browse our options or propose your own.

Explore ideas early:

AUG/SEPT to propose topics or special events

OCT for earlybird perks and early promotions

DEC to support attendees and to be seen in registration push

Imagine what you can support.

Insert your topic or audience of interest in highlighted spaces below.

Highlight a symposium sharing new ideas for youth learning in research partnerships. With complementary event access, you and two colleagues introduce the session in person. Pre-event messages help everyone find you there and at your exhibit table. To these (and other) included LEADER level perks, add a discount registration for a student to help host your table, and a demo session for a live mic during exhibit time to engage others around your own resources and services.

Join with another supporter at the CONNECTOR level to promote a special strand on solutions-oriented science. Acting early attracts submissions from high-level presenters, draws in more interested attendees, and earns a larger audience for your co-branded post-event synthesis. Add a named award for the best emerging work on the topic to distinguish your own support.

Devoting your CONVENER level funds to cover travel costs and stipends for two nationally-recognized community leaders to share their expertise. Add a small networking breakfast for these and other attending community leaders to meet you and each other on the first morning of the conference.

These are just a few of many options – reach out to share your vision. See ParticipatorySciences.org/support-caps-2027#prospectus or email us today!
